ANNUAL MEETING OF THE BASS CLEF

Grosvener Ely Chosen President for Ensuing Year—Reports of Secretary and Treasurer Showed Season to Have Been Very Successful—Club Now Has 32 Active Members.

At the adjourned annual meeting of the Bass Clef in Directors' Chamber, D. Geer's studio on Tuesday night, officers were elected for the ensuing year and reports on the activities of the past year submitted for approval in the absence of the president, Secretary John H. Vaughn occupied the chair. The report of the secretary and also the report of the treasurer, James J. Moore, were read, showing the past year to have been very successful. During the year two new members were given and three out of town concerts were held.
The officers elected for the ensuing year are as follows:

JOSEPH F. KENNEDY APPOINTED POSTMASTER AT GROTON.
Veteran New London Carrier Has Been Recommended by Postmaster Mahan.

Announcement was made Monday by Postmaster Bryan S. Mahan of his recommendation for the appointment of Letter Carrier Joseph F. Kennedy of New London as superintendent of mails at the Groton postoffice, the appointment to take effect July 1. Kennedy will succeed Roswell S. Edgcomb, who was appointed postmaster at Groton by President McKinley. When the office in the borough was made a sub-station of the New London office, four years ago, Mr. Edgcomb became its superintendent. He will now retire to a position on the clerical staff which comes under the jurisdiction of the civil service regulations.
Mr. Kennedy, who is one of the city's most popular citizens and a member of numerous social and fraternal organizations, is a veteran in the postal service, having been a letter carrier for the past 17 years, and prior to that being employed in the clerical department of the office. He has a host of friends who will be glad to congratulate him on his deserved promotion, which is regarded as a reward for faithful service.

POLITICAL COMPLEXION OF CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION
Said That Gov. Holcomb May Be Obligated to Appoint a Democrat.
There has been a development in the political complexion of the personnel of the state civil service commission which may have an important effect on the administration of the law.
Commissioner John C. Brinsmade, who when he was appointed to the commission by Governor Baldwin under the first law of 1913, was a progressive in politics, has announced that he has decided to leave the republican party, will take part in republican caucuses this year and support the republican national ticket. His return to the republican fold increases the number of republican members to four, while the law says that no more than three members of the same political party shall be members of the same political party.

The term of Commissioner Graham F. Thompson of New Haven, a republican, will expire September 1, but owing to the change which has taken place in the party affiliations of Mr. Brinsmade the retirement of Mr. Thompson would keep the representation of the republican party up to the legal limit of three.
It is held that Governor Holcomb will be obliged to appoint a democrat to succeed Mr. Thompson, if he makes any appointment at all. If he selects a democrat of the type of the president of the board, Mr. Morris, or Mr. Phelps of Andover, who was one of the first commissioners but who is not now a member, there may be a decided change in the policy of the board.
Mr. Brinsmade is a strong civil service reformer, and so is President Morris, and neither is a believer in the policy of liberal exemptions of appointments or positions from the operation of the law. If no successor is appointed to Mr. Thompson the board will stand three republicans, one democrat, but one of the republicans, Mr. Brinsmade, is known to be more in sympathy with the views of administration held by his democratic colleagues than with those of the other two republican members.
